

PUBLIC MEETING NOTICE STEELE CREEK DEVELOPMENT STUDY

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Planning Department will hold two public meetings and a design workshop in an effort called a “Development Study” to further review and analyze proposed projects in a specified area of Steele Creek. The study area boundaries are shown on the map below.

Why do a study now?

Since the adoption of the Steele Creek Area Plan (adopted 2012), significant development has been occurring in the area. The size, scale and timing of the proposed developments today are more intense than what was anticipated with the area plan, and this Development Study process is a way for the City to review and analyze what type of development is appropriate for the area.

Public Outreach

Property owners / general public, please be aware that the Development Study will not change the adopted future land use for the area, but will instead help develop a series of guidelines and recommendations to help direct current development proposals for the area.
